アレックスは新聞社での職業体験についてレポートにまとめます。以下の文章を読んで、問いに答えなさい。

Read Alex's and Kota's reports on Career Day and answer the questions below.

(Alex's report)

Kota and I went to a newspaper company on Career Day. Mr. Suzuki, a journalist, showed us around the office. Then he took us out to interview a soccer player.

Mr. Suzuki told us, "Newspapers are important to people everywhere. We need to report the news every day. We have many things to do."

Now I read newspapers every morning. For my future, I have many things to learn.

(Kota's report)

I went to a soccer stadium to interview Miyama Aya. Mr. Suzuki, a journalist, took us there.

Ms. Miyama played for some teams in the United States. I want to play soccer abroad in the future, too. So I asked her for some advice. She said, "You need to get along with your teammates. You need to break the language barrier. Get a lot of experience. It's all about your heart." Her message impressed me. To play abroad is not easy, but I really want to try.

(1) (4 questions ×1 point = 4 points)

本文の内容として正しい場合はT、間違っていればFと答えなさい。

Put "T" if the sentence below is true, and "F" if it is false.

- ① For Ms. Miyama, we need to be friendly with teammates to play soccer abroad.
- ② Alex has many things to learn, so he reads books every morning.
- ③ For Kota, to play soccer overseas is not difficult.
- ④ For Mr. Suzuki, newspapers are important to everyone.

(2) (3 questions ×2 points = 6 points)

次の質問に対する答えを、本文の内容に沿って5語以上の英語1文で書きなさい。

Answer the question below. Use at least 5 words for your sentence.

- ① What do journalists need to do every day?
- ② For Ms. Miyama, what do we need to do with language to play soccer abroad?
- ③ What does Kota want to do in the future?

SJSS の生徒の Saki が、EX の授業で Mr. Kimura にインタビューをしています。以下の 2 人の対話を読んで、問いに答えなさい。

Read the transcript of an interview of Mr. Kimura by Saki, and answer the questions below.

Saki:	Good morning, Mr. Kimura. Thank you for having an interview with me.
Mr. Kimura:	Good morning. It's my pleasure(*1)!
Saki:	When did you start to work at SJSS?
Mr. Kimura:	I started to work here two years ago.
Saki:	Why did you come to teach in Singapore?
Mr. Kimura:	I came to visit Singapore five years ago. At that time, I saw Japanese students in Little India. I thought, "Students here can experience many different cultures(*2)." (i) (lot / active / me / they / and / impressed / a / looked). So I decided(*3) to teach in Singapore.
Saki:	I see. When did you start to teach?
Mr. Kimura:	I started to teach twenty-seven years ago.
Saki:	Oh, that long? Why did you decide to be a science teacher?
Mr. Kimura:	When I was a child, I was bad at science and I was always sleeping in lessons in secondary school. But my teacher in high school gave me many interesting lessons. Because of him, I liked science. I thought, "To make interesting lessons is not easy." I decided to be a teacher to motivate(*4) others, too.
Saki:	Wow! I didn't know you were bad at science.
Mr. Kimura:	Yes, but I was able to do well in the end. So now I believe every student can also do well. They just need to try their best.
Saki:	Why do we need to learn science?
Mr. Kimura:	Many scientists invent(*5) things to help others, like the internet and the computer. I live in Singapore, but my wife(*6) lives in Japan. Every day I can talk to her because of technology. We need these inventions(*7) to live now.
Saki:	You are right! So what do you want to do as a science teacher?
Mr. Kimura:	I want to inspire(*8) students to think logically(*9) and creatively(*10). (ii) I have many things to teach students.
Saki:	You're inspiring everyone! Thank you for your interview!
